OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL A MEMPRIS, Onlober 3, 188, Outside the transactions in exchange, the was nothing of note transplring in our money discount of %c. This has been found neces-eary as the demand for exchange is so light that currency has to be brought on by express, and the old rate barely pays the charges. One of our banks received $30,000 in this way yesterday, and henceforth all will be receiving currency daily in a similar manner. We selling on all Eastern points at $1 50 to $1 to premium per $160. A sale of the shares Memphis and Ohio Rail-road stock was reported at 195c. This, we be-lieve, is an advance of Sc. There is an active savices, are now worth 45side respectively

Louisville parties have beinght up Mutual Life Insurance Co., something over $400 000 of these bonds during the past summer at Mc for the former and 40c for inclusive. These bonds, we learn by private New York. A small sale of Meraphie and Little Rock Railroad bonds was effected by a broker yesterday at 45c. A rumor was current upon the street that $50,000 in these bonds were sold in New York within the past day or two at 51%c. Southern securities are tending up wards, evidently, and holders are not at all folicies Issued at this Office on all the popular anxious to sail. We could learn of no transactions in city bonds, though they are firm, with no offerings, at less than for, at which ate there is some disposition to buy. In view of the natural and probable move-ment of money for a year past, says the speci-loider, we are satisfied that the West, the grain rowing parties of the country, holds at pre-iant the great bulk of the national bank notes. There are obvious reasons for this. The yield of cereals and other produce in the West last ear, though not equal to that of the current eason, was nevertueless large. It commanded high prices generally. The East, or manufac-ering portion of the country, did not do a wrontable business last year.

The West was not a free purchases of fabrics.

The West was not a free purchaser of fabrics, domestic and imported, the manifecture and sale of which make so large a portion of the business of the East. Yet, from necessity, the East was a large purchaser of Western prouncis, forming as they do the staples of life. The Bauth has been poor for the past year. The cotton crop, which brought sich fine prices after the new year, was guthered and sold at a loss. Midding upland cotton was willing in this market in November at 1815s per 1m, ourrency, a sum for which cotton caunor be grown, ginned and baled, to say nothing of transportation and allowance for the capital employed in its culture. The South has been therefore poor—want of monor has been the compisint in all parts, all the space money has gone to buy food. From this quarter therefore the West has been this recipient of money has been the bulk of the money into the West, and those it remains mainly in the shape of national bank notes, but still with a large Infusion of legal lender in circulation.

A few of the regular buyers were also on the J. J. MUEPHY, market, but they did not show much dispost- NAPOLKON KILL tion to take hold, probably because it was the last day of the week, or probably for want of orders. Fine cotions, however, are in demand. W. E. MOGRE,

This GIN is regarded by planters who have used it, as the best for sample, picking the seed clean and light draught. Planters cultivating bottom lands are requested to examine the Eureka Gin at Farrington & Howell's, 208 Front street. It will pay for itself in ginning fifty bales. A.N. Gunnison, manufacturer of the Steel Comb Gin before the war but now a planter, gives the following certificate:

"MEMPHIS, TENS., January 31, 1868.

"I take pleasure in recommending to planters cultivating Cotton on bottom lands of the Missisppi, Arkansas, White and St. Francis livers, the Eureka Gin, made by Daniel Pratt, of Alabama. This Gin separates the hulls, bolls, etc., from the Seed Cotton, makes a good sample, and is superior to any other Gin for bottom lands. I have used one myself on a farm in Waskington county, Miss., and it operates well and gives entire astisfaction in every respect.

Orders for Gins, from 40 to 80 Saws and Gunn Belting, at Factory Prices, addressed to the care of FARRINGTON & HOWRILL, 268 Frontstreet, Memphis, promptly filled. Presses and Gearing put up, and Gins repaired by a skillful Ginwright.
